Annual Dinner & Prize Giving
7th November 2009 at Banqueting
House, London*

The 2009 RORC racing season is well underway. You're out there, competing, Fastnet-qualifying, chasing the silverware. You may have already had success, but you know there's still a long way to go to the end of the season. You need to motivate your team further.

Set the vision now - to be celebrating on the podium - show your team you mean business by booking them a table for the 2009 RORC Annual Dinner & Prize Giving.

This year's venue, the prestigious Banqueting House, was built in 1622, just 27 years before King Charles I of England was executed on a scaffold in front of it in January 1649. Prior to his death, the King commissioned the beautiful Rubens ceiling, seen below, painted in 1635. It is a stunning location to receive your prize.
